THE NOTED TROTTER SELLS FOR $1,650 UNDER THE HAMMER. A Large Crowd of Horsemen Attend the Garden Sale-Highest Price of the Bay Paid for the Pacer Nelly McCrory-The Chestant Stallion North a Bargain. W. B. Fasig's combination sale of trotting erock was continued yesterday at Madison Square Garden with a much better lot of offerings than those that passed under the hammer on the preceding day. The crowd in attendance was one of the largest ever seen at a horse sale in the Garden, hundreds of well-known breeders, turfmen, and road riders from New York and other trotting-horse centres crowding the tanbark arena, and the boxes and chairs on the south side of the Garden both afternoon and evening. Robert Bonner was an interested epectator throughout the day, and when the fast Western trotter, Don L. 2:1214, came into the ring the owner of Maud S. and Sunoi took a hand in the bidding. A number of Eastern turfmen and road riders wanted the handsome. level-headed grandson of Lumps, but Mr. Bonner outlasted them all and the hammer fell to his bid of $1,650.

The new addition to the well-known New York horseman's stable is a seven-year-old brown gelding that gained his record at the last Detroit Grand Circuit meeting and was credited with having trotted a mile in 2:0914 in his work. Don L. was the contending horse in the $10,000 Merchants' and Manufacturers' Stakes at Detroit in 1895, and until the judges sucstituted Ed Geers for J. B. Chandler behind the invincible green horse The Corporal, the Wilkes horse looked like a winner. "Dink" Hills, the who drove him to his record, says that Don L. has trotted a quarter in 0:29 and a half

A. H. Gilmore, a Canadian horseman, paid the best price of the day, $2,300, for the speedy, handsome pacing mare Nelly McCrory, 2:11%. is accounted a good one in her class for the campaign of 1897. Blue Bird, a green pacer in the same consignment, that is said to have shown a mile in 2:14, was knocked down for $1,225 to L. S. Grant of Providence. One of the big bargains of the day's sale was the chestnut stallion Norris, 2:22%, by Mr. Bonner's well-known trotting sire Ansel, out of Norma, the dam known trotting sire Ansel, out of Norma, the dam of the noted Lucy Cuyler. He is a stallion of the park horse type, with very showy, snappy action, and apparently knows no other gat than the trot, although he is about half thoroughbred. The present poor demand for trotting stallions not of the vary highest class was pianity shown when Norris was struck off to the bid of a Long Island horseman for the paltry sum of $360. Edward Appel, the Rochester breeder, who consigned Norris to the sale, paid several thousand dollars to Gov. Stanford for the stallon a few years ago.

breader, who consigned Norris to the sale, paid several thousand dollars to Gov. Stanford for the stallion a few years ago.

Marie Wellington, a promising green filly in Appel's lot, that was got by General Wellington, the full brother to Mr. Bonner's Sunol, 2:084, was purchased by John McGuire for $1,000. She has credit for a trial of 2:17% and is eligible to the 3:00 class. The four tried horses in Dr. J. H. Carmichael's collection averaged $2000 each. Henry A. Fleischman of Berlin, Germany, paid $1,575 for the pick of the quartet, the bay stallion Germaine, 2:13%, by Mambrino King, One of the first animais that passed under the hammer yesterday was the old gray mare Carrie, 2:29%, by George Wilkes out of Bashaw Belle by Green's Bashaw. She is the dam of the crack pacer Manager, 2:00%, and several other fast ones. Carrie is now in her sighteenth year, and she has not produced a foal since 1895. Peter Duryes, Charles H. Kerner, James W. Daly, and other prominent breeders, who fancied the gray mare, were afraid that she would not prove faithful again, and $400 was the highest bid received for the daughter of George Wilkes.

The closing out sale of Senator W. M. Stewart's trotting stock filled out a part of the evening session. The animals were for the most part undeveloped and pot very fashionably bred, and prices were accordingly low. Following is a partial summary of the sale:

IRELAND'S HANDBALL CHAMPION. Fitzgerald Makes His Debut at the Brooklyn Clab's Court.

A SECTION ASSESSMENT OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR

There was a representative gathering of handball players, promoters, and critics at the Brooklyn Club's court yesterday afternoon to see the Irish chamption, James Fitzgerald, make his American debut. All were favorably impressed with the new arrival, and the aptitude he showed in adapting himself to the strange court, conditions, and surroundings. It was a gala day at the premier court, and the Celtic star received a rousing welcome from the world's champion, Phil Cases, ex-Alderman James Dunne, Charley Johnson, and several other well-known Brooklyn citizens, as well as Ex-Alderman Dunne took Fitzgerald under his wing, and the pair went in against Phil Casey and J. Dunne, Jr., for a rubber. The Irishman stripped well and tipped the scales at 158 pounds, which is about twelve pounds over his championship playing weight. Although only 5 feet 6 inches tall, he has a good reach, and is well proportioned. Having been mostly

WEST POINT, Miss., Jan. 21. The weather today was altogether favorable for good work by the dogs. The All-Age Pointer Stake was continued. Young Rip Rap, the Derby winner, owned by Bar Harbor Kennels, ran first with F G. Durham's dog Elgin's Dash. Dash found ore birds, but the character of the work was with Rip Rap. Ripsaw and Delhi ran an ordi-nary trial, with Delhi better on game and nary trial, with Dethi better on game and ordinary form. Tippoo and Cracker Jack worked in ordinary form. Tippoo being better in every way. Nabob ran his byte with a setter, and did fairly good work, considering be had only a slight acquaintance with his handler.

Blz dogs were taken into the second series. You Gull to run with Virginia, Young Rip Rap with Sister Sue, and Tippoo with Elgin's Dash. The territory for good work was now better, and a finer showing was made by most of the dogs. You Gull did not run as well as in his first trial, and Virginia was the better of the two. Young Rip Hap far outclassed Sister Sue: In fact, he outclasses anything in the stake and has proved himself to be the best young dog of the year. He will probably win the All-Acc Stake. Tippoo and Eigin: Dash ran in decidedly improved form and made a close competition. With the work of both trials considered, however, Dash is ahead. In single-bird work he has not been equalled. This closed the second series.

The cup for amateurs, contested by Prof. Osthans and H. S. Smith, running Nabob and Ripsaw respectively, was won by Smith. The All-Age Setter Stake will begin to morrow after the Age Setter Stake will begin to morrow after the Age Setter Stake will begin to morrow after the age and abroad, including Chicago, Cincinnant, Chess. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21,-The adjourned game between Emil Kemeny and Jackson W. showalter was continued to-day and resulted in a win for Kemeny after seven hours' play. At a win for Kemeny after seven hours' play. At the adjournment Kemeny had the better posi-tion, Showaiter being unable to play for the draw only. On resuming play Kemeny con-tinued with excellent judgment, coming into the end game with bishop and two pawns, against the bishop. White relied on being able to sacrifice his bishop for black's H P, the rook pawn being unable to win with the opposite bishop. Kemeny skillfully averted this and forced Showaiter to resign on the sixtieth move. This makes the score one each. To-morrow Showaiter again meets Shipley.

ION FAILS THE SKATERS,

The National Tourney Postponed-A Lively Off Day at Stamford. Temperature and tide conspired against the National Skating Association yesterday, and as the hour approached for resuming the tournament, which opened so promisingly o Wednesday, the ice was pronounced unfit. It appears a sudden jump in the temperaturafter sunrise played havor with the over-night coating of snow, and left the ice 'oo stoppy and yielding on top to suit the skaters. The early tide increased the trouble by cracking the weak ice on the pond edges and then on its return shifted the racing centre about fifty

The solitary bridge grew gradually restless The solitary bridge grew gradually restless at its mooring, but several visiting enthusiasts and dozens of the local "small boy" variety tiptoed over the planks and found a strip of fairly good ice out in the centre. The discovery promptive led to a match between Charles McClave and A. L. Morgan, the rival New York schoolboys. A straightaway course of 250 yards was flagged out, and the youthful fivers went to their marks, Morgan allowing eight rards to the new State champion. This was the signal for some reckless trafflo over the bridge, until the border of the ice burst like tissue paper, letting in a fringe of the least cautious rooters for a ducking. An old flat-bottomed boat was pressed into service and after affecting a general rescue, which provoked great merriment among those secure on dry land, the practical skipper started in the ferryboat business. In this tashion the few officials on hand reached their atations on the ice, and the race commenced. Morgan, who is an exceptionally hefty youth found the going too soft to suit him, while McClave, who is on much lighter lines, skimmed along the top like a bird and won by over his handlean in 19 4-5 seconds. Old-timers gaspel as they heard the figures, but the official watch holders, Gus Walton and J. C. Hemment, explained on coming ashore that the favoring wind was blowing great guns at the time.

The boys agreed to have another go on level terms, and there was a great race for half the distance. Then McClave forged shead and won by three yards in 20 2-5 seconds.

No further racing was attempted, and the management until next week. Joe Donoghus at its mooring, but several visiting enthusi

No further racins was attempted, and the management subsequently amounced a postponement until next week. Joe Donoghue put in an appearance at the Cove during the afternoon, and left last night for Montreal, where he world's skating championships take place on Feb. 5 and 6. Before starting he made a match with Howard Mosher, to state a quarter of a mile for $100 a side on a date in February to be agreed on later. Letts and Nillson also made a series of matches with a vague future as to date and place, the Western crack, agreeing to allow liberal handicaps to Letts.

Abell and Byrne Looking for New Grounds for the Brooklyss.

President Byrne of the Brooklyn Baseball Club throw some light yesterday on the policy club when he announced that he and Abell were now negotiating for new grounds. Byrne refused point blank to say what locations are under consideration, but freely admitted that the club would probably leave Eastern Park. Abell has been persuaded to remain in baseball under certain conditions, and when the time comes he will not be found wanting. He was well pleased with Henry J. Robinson's interview in yesterday's Strx, for, he said, it confirmed his statements as to the unwillingness of the minority to assist him in the fluancial management of the circle.

statements as to the unwillingness of the minority to assist him in the fluancial management of the club.

It is quite probable that within the next few days negotiations will be opened with Hyrne and Abell by the proprietors of Ambrose Park. South Brooklyn. This ground was used a couple of years ago by Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. It is situated within a stone's throw of the Thirty-ninth street ferry and can be reached from the Hattery in twenty minutes. The Third and Flifth avenue trolley lines land passengers near the gates, and the Flifth avenue elevated road is also a convenient route to take. The proprietors of the park have an excellent argument in their favor, in that the grounds are already inclosed and there is a seating capacity for 20,000 persons, all of the stands being covered. The surface of the field is plenty large enough to play baseball upon, and can be sodded at a reasonable figure. The owners of Ambrose Park tried some time ago to secure the big Yale-Princeton football game, and they are said to be equally desirous of doing business with the Brooklyn Ball Club. Byrne and Abell are not hard to deal with, and if the Ambrose Park people can offer reasonable terms it will not be a surprise if the Brooklyns play ball there next summer.

Two other sites have been brought to the attention of the baseball magnates, and estimates have been named. As soon as something definite is done Manager Harnie will receive notice to prepare the team for the coming season.

League is divided into three classes, namely: Those who play Sunday games both at home and abroad, including Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Cleveland, and St. Louis; those who play Sunday games outside of their home cities, including Brooklyn, Baltimore, and Washington, and those who play no Sunday ball at all. Pittsburgh, Philadelphis, Boston, and New York. Each club sends its wishes in the matter to President Young in December, and the schedule is made out accordingly, with their Sundays as they desire them. No power in the League can compel a club to play or not play on Sunday, and all talk about such action is non-sense."

for. They have spent thousands of dollars in trying to make the grounds a model for trap shooting purposes, and that their efforts have been crowned with success was admitted by all the club men and wing shots who took part in yesterday's competitions.

The club house, which is a commodious twostory colonial structure, with 10,000 square feet of floor surface, is almost entirely inclosed in glass, which gives to the spectators an uninterrupted view of the three sets of traps. The lower floor, outside of an office and café, is devoted entirely to the shooters, and is fitted with innumerable lockers, gun racks, closets, lavatories, while the upper floor is used as a dining room and inclosed grand stand. While the club house is a marvel in its way, it is the many new and novel features introduced in the shooting grounds which pleased the shooters best. There are three sets of traps facing east, west, and south, which insure driving birds, no mat-ter from what quarter the wind may blow. the traps every time a bird is released, much trapped underground. This is done by means which runs under each set of five traps. Then the traps, which are a new invention of Jordan L. Mott, Jr., the well-known club man, instead of failing down, slip out of sight with a jingling noise, which starts the birds off with s jump. The result was misses were frequent yesterday. The trap puller and even the dogs which do the retrieving are also hidden from view in little sheds sunk in the ground, so the shooters have nothing to distract their attention at the score. For some reason or other, the crack shots of clubdom, lize Work, Murphy, Knapp, Hoey, Moore, and others, were conspicuous by their absence yesterday. Philadelphia, however, sent a large delegation, including Robert A. Welch, T. S. Stokes, Junius Davis, F. Leonard, Count Langen, and G. S. Edwards. This city was represented by G. S. McAlpin and D. I. Bradley. The principal event was a handicap sweepstakes at twenty-five birds each, $25 entrance fee, for a handsome silver cup presented by W. P. Patten of Pleasure Bay, While there were nearly thirty entries, only eight shooters faced the traps when Harold Wallack called time. Robert A. Weich of the Riverton Gun Club of Philadelphia, who was very favorably treated by the handicappers, won easily from the twenty-nine-yard mark, with a score of twenty-five straight. F. Leonard, another Philadelphian, captured second money from the thirty-yard mark, with a score of twenty-three, while Count Langen, twenty-six yards, and D. I. Bradley of the Larchmont Yacht Club divided third money, with a score of twenty-one each.

A number of miss and out and ten and fifteen bird affairs followed, in which Davis, McAlpin, Welch, Morfey, and Edwards carried off most of the honors. Summaries follow:
